

Another USA Regulated Binary Options Exchange On the Way

Another USA Regulated Binary Options Exchange On the Way to Becoming a Viable Alternative for USA Binary Options Traders

Now this is getting interesting!

These guys are a full blown, CFTC beloved, binary options exchange. Check this out as CBOE, NADEX and ... Cantor are the only legal binary options exchanges (to use commodity futures for their underlying – read the wording carefully ☐

They are already up and trading. You can access their activity report here

They have some activity mostly around EURUSD according to the last daily report.

And... they are using Spot Options Platform!

Wow. So while NADEX does it's thing with binary options from another galaxy. Cantor is going back in time with SpotOption – a platform you're used to trading. Check out Cantor Binary Options Platform They better hire a webmaster though (although I can't really talk too much smack about ugly websites lol) Cantor looks like it has someone who's stuck back in 1999 style designing their site. That's not a good thing to do for a broker / exchange.

But let's see what they will offer. Hopefully they'll present us a full spectrum of stable binary options choices.

Well it looks like they are offering a second trading platform by TechFinancials (24option style) as well.

This post is being published as a quick post on the weekend. It will be nice to see what happens when the markets open for Cantor.

I've never seen Cantor advertised anywhere have you? So that provides the impression that they are still in Beta overall. It's hard to tell from their site. If they are functional which obviously they are given their trading volume they should start advertising to build volume of active accounts (before you BOA ULTRA system traders get to them ☐)

Well that's it for now. We'll have to wait to see more of what's going on when the markets open. I hope they do well and provide a good service for their traders for USA's sake.

Getting Ready for B0A2.0 Launch – BB24 is Born!

Getting Ready for B0A2.0 Launch? Well Here's the First NEW Binary Options System

“BOA 2.0 Rises...”

Ok. Yes. I'll admit. I've been, we've been really crappy at updating our websites. Yet, that doesn't mean that we're not doing anything back here at our trading lab. In fact, we've been making some crazy, mind bending, maybe even “quantum” (if i may use the concept of the word) breakthroughs in new levels of trading systems development.

So we decided to try and get better at our website presentations. As I thought about it more, if we don't clearly explain what our systems can do for you and why you would want to get the system, we're doing you a great disservice. We've had students reporting 6 and 7 fig gains off of our systems. So if we're selling good stuff and you can't see that from our crappy websites then that's just not good.

One broker at one point fessed up that there were several traders at his firm doing $10k to $30k a day on our old PRO systems. I can't verify since I can't look into their accounts or get their names to drop them a line so we just mention what we hear back. I'm not surprised at all. These systems were DESIGNED to be SOLID so once a trader got a hang of the system, the potential to do really well is there.

So going forward we have improved and will improved more on our websites. But always keep in mind that we are traders first, systems developers 2nd and marketers... well I wouldn't even call us that.

That said, I'm sure you'd prefer it that way where our focus is on making super awesome, powerful, solid trading systems for you vs. sales pitches. So keep that mind mind as you read our websites. Many who use their instincts can tell that we sell good systems. Then after they find out it's true, then end up buying several of our systems and some buy ALL of our systems because they know, once we go, they will miss out on something big.

Now on to the point here: B0A, Binary Options AUTHORITY is finally formally launching. Yes we never launched the site after what 6 years lol whew... We're going to separate out binaries from Options Trading AUTHORITY and focus on getting people trading BIGGER with vanillas, vs. binaries.

We'll roll out each new product one by one. We've got some extremely cool stuff here as we've cracked open new routes to binary trading, new price action methods including clustering.

We'll also start to launch some bonus education and training webinars. Plus we're working on some very cool new automating software. We'll see if the programmer can make it happen.

BB24 is Born...

So we start with "BB24" . Here are some results info:

- $3016.67 a DAY, or actually for 3 hours a day only.
- The system results are based on $500 per trade. So if you trade more than just multiply.
- So if you traded $2500 per trade then that would be a $15,083.35 a day average.
- If you traded $100 per trade then that would be a $603.33 a day average.

P.S. Look out for more info coming soon. If you have any requests for ideal systems let us know!

Binary Options AUTHORITY 3 New Style Binary Systems Coming Soon

Binary Options AUTHORITY 3 New Style Binary Systems Coming Soon

Just a heads up: 3 new style binary options systems are to be released soon:

The following 3, any of which, I guessing for you, could be a COMPLETE solution for successful binary options trading.

All three can trade all market conditions although trading times that have more price follow through are preferred.

All three are very prolific and provide a TON of constant trading activity.

- D U M P Binary Options Strategy Trader
- FISSION III Binary Options Cluster System 2
- Binary TRIPWIRE – Binary Options Clustering

We are also working on finalizing new solutions for you for NADEX and the OMNI systems evolution.

Also, programmer depending, we may infact have some neat auto trading solutions for you. Again that's programmer depending because we have not had much luck with coders in the past. Any good coders out there reading this give us a holler!
