Replace your emini day trading or use 3TP to enhance it. NADEX is much easier to start and fund plus there no margin requirements and you can start with even 100 bucks.

You can combine using the out of the money 2 hour or daily binary to ride these bigger intraday moves.

3TP Trades 3 minute bars so the pace is moderate and the size of move on average is relatively robust and large.

3TP is usually able to consistently identify the bigger moves throughout the day and the bigger intraday trends so you can ride a strong distance in your spreads and collect a lot of cash with limited risk.

We can directly trade the move and use stop losses too with the spreads (mental stop losses with manual exit) so if the move doesn't work out and you are in the middle of a spread range, like the day spread, then we have a base stoploss mechanism that limits your risk to the stoploss point which is usually a couple points or less or so.

If you are looking for high precision NADEX Day Trading strategy then you are going to like 3TP Spreads strategy.

In fact you can use 3TP even for vanilla options daytrading.

And you can use 3TP for Forex day trading and stock day trading.
