This is the trading SYSTEM not just the strategy.

What this is:

- It's a strategic system designed to hone in on the most well respected price burst points so we can get in front of this burst over and over for profit.
- It's a very flexible binary options system that is universal in its application across different instruments and times frames.
- This system is optimized around the 5 minute binary options expiration
- Examples are given below for 3 hour trading session for the sake of convenience. You can trade for less time or more. Of course if you trade for longer the potential to make a lot more money is there.
- This system will be taught to you in a home study course. We will make sure you understand the system so you can start trading it after you've done your basic homework in learning the system.
