- The 2-hour binary overlaps into the 1 hour binary most of the time. This provides us with an 1 hour binary scenario which provides greater deltas so we can profit more from momentum. So essentially we are playing the 1 hour binary. But we will also teach spread and the use of knock outs for taking advantage of moves that are within the 1 hour price cycle. We've discovered many ways, high probability well paying ways to profit in and around this 1 hour price action cycle.
 - The 2-hour NADEX binary option with 1 hour overlap, NADEX or traditional binary (or even regular emini, Forex or stock day trading for that matter) offers some very nice time coordination with price action. This means that we can take advantage of these price action scenarios with a strong, stronger stronger than usual position size.

- The 2/1 hour NADEX binary gives us great Dynamic deltas that we can take advantage of as time ticks down for large percentage gains and easy rides into expiration. The premium therefore decays profits faster into our account if we are in the money. And the deltas increase as we get closer to expiration which means that we can make more money faster, with less of a move in the underlying asset .
- We will show you a variety of Home Run trading strategies with the 1 hour expiration binary.
- We will show you strategies on how to take to accelerate up and ramp up profitability.
